BRINGING CALIFORNIA TOGETHER VIRTUALLY

Howard Levin, Director of Educational Innovation, Convent and Stuart Hall, San Francisco

Howard Levin is the Director of Educational Innovation at Convent & Stuart Hall in San Francisco. He is in his 34th year as an independent school educator. In the early 2000's at the Urban School of San Francisco, Howard led one of the first 1:1 Apple laptop programs in California. He has served on the ISTE Board of Directors, has been active with NAIS, and has consulted with schools around the country.

Frederic Skrzypek, Director of Technology, Laguna Blanca

Frederic Skrzypek is currently the Director of Technology at Laguna Blanca School (Santa Barbara). An educator with more than ten years of teaching experience, he has deployed 1:1 programs and coordinated new database implementation. An advocate for blended learning, he has supported teachers during this challenging school year.

Peter Antupit, CTO, Crystal Springs Uplands School, Hillsborough

Peter has been working in schools for over 25 years. He started working in Massachusetts as a teacher. After earning a Master's in Technology & Education, he became a Director of Technology. In 2012, Peter was excited to join Crystal Springs Uplands School as the Director of Technology and later became the CIO, overseeing both the technology department and Library services. He is also a founding faculty member of the Atlis Leadership Institute, which works with current and aspiring technology leaders to hone their leadership skills.
